EXPERIENCE

Eben Design (Seattle, WA)

Senior Web Designer, September 2006 to Present

I plan, design and develop engaging interactive projects while in close collaboration with clients, project managers, developers and other designers throughout the life of the project. I work to ensure cohesive brands by working closely with our brand strategists, copywriter and marketing designers. I formulate user experience solutions best-suited to the clients' needs through the development of site architectures, wireframes, and storyboards as part of project specification documents.

Pixel Creative Group (Houston, TX)
